ConGRADS! ICCS Announces Top Students

We proudly present Ichabod Crane's Class of 2021 Valedictorian and Salutatorian: Austin Zlomek and Tismark Boham, respectively. These two accomplished Ichabod Crane High School seniors have achieved the highest (Valedictorian) and second highest (Salutatorian) grades in their graduating class.

Austin and Tismark reached this point largely because of their own dedicated hard work, but also because of guidance from district staff, the comradery of their peers and of course the unwavering support of their families. Learn more about Austin and Tismark at our Senior Spotlight webpage.

Masks Are A Must

Please remember that students are adults are still required to wear masks on school grounds regardless their vaccination status.

A Concert-ed effort

Due to Covid-19 restrictions, instead of performing our typical spring concerts, the Ichabod Crane Music Department worked together to create a district-wide video showcasing the talents of middle through high school students.

One of the highlights of this project was combining the four bands on the football field to perform "September," by Earth Wind and Fire. Since this large group of students were on three different school schedules – in-person, hybrid, and fully remote – the recording took place on two different days and was mixed into one performance. The football field was the only venue big enough for such a large gathering.

The department recorded its vocal ensembles separately, and combined them into one recording.

"Getting a chance to see all of the growth and development of the musical students in the middle school was a memorable experience," said high school junior Logan Johnson, percussionist. "The talent I saw was astonishing. I'm excited to see their growth coming forward."

Senior Athletes Signing College Contracts

"These athletes have worked so hard both on the field and in the classroom and it's wonderful to see their goal of participating at the next level pay off."
