Location: High School Cafeteria

Instructor: Emily Heins

Tuition: $30

Curious to try vinyasa yoga but not sure where to begin? How about with us! In this class, you will move through traditional vinyasa sequences. You will link your breath to movement to encourage strength, flexibility and balance. You will have "time under tension" which is a way of stating.....your muscles, joints and stamina will work hard as you move in and out of poses. We will start with a gentle slow warm-up, followed by moderate to intermediate level sequences, and a final cool down and resting pose to seal the practice. We get a little weird, have fun and always leave refreshed. This class would be nice for the newbie who wants to jump right into a moderate paced practice, the body that seeks to be more flexible, the body that likes to build some heat, or anybody seeking the deep stretch and fun of a vinyasa practice.

In this class we move slowly and intentionally through poses. We gently and safely stretch and twist to encourage an improvement in range of motion, balance, and flexibility. In this class we will have a slow and gentle warm up, followed by a few traditional yoga poses which are held for several moments, followed by deep stretches and a final resting pose to seal the practice. This class would be nice for the newbie, the stiff and tight body, the body that seeks gentle movement, or anybody seeking a slow and intentional practice.
