Parent Right-to-Know Notice

Title I, Part A — 2026–2027

As a school receiving Title I, Part A funds, we want families to be aware of their right to request information about the professional qualifications of the educators who provide instruction and services to their children.

Your Right to Request Information

Parents and guardians have the right to request information about the professional qualifications of their child's classroom teachers and paraprofessionals who provide services to their child.

Upon request, the school or district will provide information, as applicable, regarding:

- Whether the teacher has met New York State certification requirements for the grade level and subject areas in which the teacher provides instruction;
- Whether the teacher is teaching under an emergency, provisional, or other temporary status for which New York State certification requirements have been waived;
- The teacher's college or university degree(s), including the field of study and other graduate certification or degrees held, as applicable; and
- Whether the child is provided services by paraprofessionals and, if so, information about their qualifications.

Parents may request this information at any time during the school year.

How to Request Information

To request information about the qualifications of your child's teacher or teaching assistant, please contact your school principal.

We are committed to providing families with clear information and opportunities to be involved in their child's education.

Thank you for partnering with us to support student learning.
