Elias Maillet

Elias starts each day with a smile and greets others with kindness. He always wants to help. Whether it is in a classroom helping his teacher, or a fellow student in need, he is ready and willing to do what he can to help.

Emma Cabral

Emma is an active student deeply involved in her class, volleyball, and taking on Model UN. Emma is incredibly active in class, leads her classmates and teammates, and sets a positive example in all she does. She is respectful of all around her, adults and classmates included.

Imani George

Imani is kind, helpful, always positive, and a very friendly presence in our school. She was a tremendous help selling tickets for homecoming, and helping to clean up after the dance. She works hard in class and is certainly an asset to our class. She is willing to share her ideas and help others out. She is a great person and an excellent example of an Ichabod Crane Rider!

Madelyn Thomas

Maddy stands out for her kindness and unwavering commitment to helping others. From offering a supportive hand to classmates at school to volunteering her time to serve with the Valatie Rescue Squad, she consistently puts others before herself. Her compassion and dependable nature make her an example of community pride and positive student leadership.

Connor Meehan

Connor is hardworking and takes the initiative to catch up and ask questions when he has missed time. He is on top of his stuff and participates well in class.

Malia Scali

She is a bit quiet, but participates well. She loves talking about books, authors, and advanced thoughts of academics. She is really wonderful all around.

Sophie Shultis

Sophie is an excellent student who leads by quiet example every single day. She balances a challenging schedule with a successful varsity volleyball career, and she demonstrates exceptional dedication, time management, and resilience. Her teachers and coaches describe her as a kind, hard-working individual who consistently seeks out challenges and strives for excellence. Whether in the classroom or on the court, her humble leadership and drive make her an outstanding role model for her peers.

Kaylee Chiaro

Kaylee is a deserving recipient of this recognition. Known across her classes for her polite demeanor and exceptional diligence, she approaches every task with purpose and commitment. Her teachers consistently highlight her strong work ethic, as Kaylee puts genuine effort into everything she does. Her quiet reliability, respectful nature, and dedication to her studies make her a wonderful role model and a valued member of our school community.

Congratulations to all!
